Dear Fire Service Personnel:

As members of the Fire Service in today's world, it is imperative that we are as prepared as possible for every possibility. Our fall training and certification programs are designed to prepare you for the possibilities and potential situations that exist every day in the world of a first responder. We are committed to meeting the training and educational needs of our diverse Fire Service community.

The Fire Service is offering two courses prior to the N.J. Firemen's Convention in Wildwood and we have a diverse line-up planned for the FIFO Conference, which you can see on Page 4. Courses like Fire Alarm Science Boot Camp, Demystifying Expert Testimony in a Fire Case, Conflict Prevention and Resolution and Terrorism Awareness for Fire Inspectors and Code Officials will provide you with a working understand of each subject.

We also will offer new courses throughout the semester, including: It's In The Basement; Understanding ISO's Fire Suppression Rating Schedule; Conflict Prevention and Resolution; Generation Y - The Next Generation; and The Preeminent Instructor. Our goal, as always, is to offer the courses that meet the needs of the Fire Service at every level.

I'm thrilled that in the past year more than 10,000 fire service personnel have enrolled and participated in our training and certification program. We are building our ability to serve and protect New Jersey families one course at a time. I encourage everyone to take advantage of the tremendous offerings we have during this semester. We also need your feedback on courses you take and educational opportunities that you believe would be valuable as we go forward.

Regards,

Lawrence Petrillo
State Fire Marshall
Director, NJ Division of Fire Safety

TELEPHONE & INTERNET REGISTRATION

There are two methods to register for classes – by phone or with the new Web-based Course Registration Process. To register for courses using the Internet, go to the Fire Safety home page (www.state.nj.us/dca/dfs) and click away! Log-on instructions are in this brochure. If you prefer, you can register by telephone at 609-324-7563.

REGISTRATION PERIODS

FIRST REGISTRATION - The first registration period begins Monday, August 21, 2006 and will continue through Friday, August 25, 2006. This period is reserved for appointed (working) fire officials, fire inspectors and fire service instructors. Registration for code enforcement personnel will be limited to two programs, either two “Core” programs or one “Core” program and one “Code Enforcement” or “Instructor” program. Appointed fire service instructors may enroll in any two Instructor or Fire Service courses.

SECOND REGISTRATION - The second registration period, from Monday, August 28, through Friday, September 1, is for appointed and non-appointed personnel to register. Code enforcement personnel will be permitted to select both Core and non-Core programs during this time. Appointed fire service instructors may enroll into any Instructor or Fire Service course. If you have already registered for two programs during the first registration period, you must wait until the open registration period to register for additional programs. A maximum of two registrations will be permitted before August 28.

OPEN REGISTRATION - The open registration period begins on Tuesday, September 5, and continues through the semester. You may register for additional seminars at this time. Initially, registration is limited to a maximum of six seminars during the semester. However, registration will be permitted for additional seminars on a space-available basis. Credit will not be issued for seminars which have already been completed within your active certification cycle. The Division of Fire Safety reserves the right to limit the number of enrollments per person.

TELEPHONE REGISTRATION - Please select the seminar you wish to attend and call in your choice to DFS at 609-324-7563 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Be prepared to register for alternate seminars if your first choice is filled. When you call in your registration, be sure to have your six-digit Fire Service Identification Number (1xxxxx). You will be limited to two seminars, providing everyone an equal opportunity to register. A reminder notice will be mailed to you prior to the scheduled seminar date. If you do not receive a reminder within two days of the seminar date, please call the Division of Fire Safety to verify your registration. You may call the Division of Fire Safety to verify or change your address at any time.

WEB-BASED REGISTRATION - New features added to the Division of Fire Safety website give fire personnel more control over the process of registering for classes. In addition, you will be able to access and update your personal information, review and print your course enrollment list, review and print your completed course list, obtain a certificate of attendance for any course you have completed, review and print your current certification list, and review and print your courses completed for certification. You can register for courses and/or access your records any time – day or night – from anywhere in the world. Before you can start using the new system, you will need to establish your password and user ID. The following three-step procedure only needs to be performed once.

STEP 1: AUTHENTICATION CODE

At the Division of Fire Safety home page (<http://www.state.nj.us/dca/dfs>), click on Get Authentication Code. Follow the instructions on your screen.

STEP 2: USER ID AND PASSWORD

At the Division of Fire Safety home page, click on Get User ID and Password. Click on Register and follow the instructions on your screen.

STEP 3: ENTER AUTHENTICATION CODE

At the Division of Fire Safety home page, click on Enter Authentication Code and follow the instructions on your screen.

FOR ALL STUDENTS

If you are unable to attend a seminar, please call 609-324-7563 to cancel as soon as possible so that someone else may use your space. Failure to cancel will be recorded and action may be taken. Do not call the academy where the seminar is being held to cancel. Credit will not be given for repeating a seminar within a three-year period. Although computer records are kept, you should keep a record of the seminars you have completed. All seminars begin promptly at 8:30 am and conclude at approximately 3:00 pm, unless otherwise indicated. In order to receive seminar credit, you must be present prior to the start of class and in the classroom for the entire seminar. Credit may not be granted if you arrive late, return late from lunch and breaks, leave early, or if you are not in the classroom while the seminar is in session.

CONFIRMATION OF ATTENDANCE

The Division is adding a new process that enables students to receive same-day confirmation of attendance at a seminar. If you are interested in receiving verification on the day you attend a seminar, you must bring your Confirmation Notice with you to class. After the class has concluded, the facilitator will stamp this notice as proof that you attended the seminar.

DRESS CODE

The Division of Fire Safety has instituted a dress code for attendance at seminars. Appropriate dress includes long pants, shirts with sleeves, and shoes. Facility representatives will enforce this dress code, and those who do not comply may be dismissed from the seminar and/or lose credit.

ACADEMY SPOTLIGHT

CAPE MAY COUNTY FIRE ACADEMY

Crest Haven Road, Cape May Court House
Cape May, NJ 08210, 609-465-2570

The Cape May County Fire Academy is a state-of-the-art training facility located in Cape May Court House, N. J. The academy, which opened in 1980, serves as a training facility for fire, police, rescue and 911 personnel. The academy provides instruction and hands-on training.

In 1999, the facility was expanded to include two classrooms with seating for 60 people and an amphitheater with seating for 100 (at right). All classrooms have state-of-the-art audio/visual computer technology.

The training grounds consist of a two-story burn building run by computerized propane, a training tower, a vehicle extrication area, and a computerized propane vehicle. In August of this year, construction will be started to build a four-bay garage, and a classroom for ladder and pump training classes.

REQUEST FOR COURSE PROPOSALS

The NJ Division of Fire Safety strives to provide its service professionals and volunteers with access to timely, informative and effective training and education. To stay current with changing demands and requirements placed on all first responders, the Division, in cooperation with Kean University, issues this Request for Course Proposals for upcoming semesters from qualified professionals interested in teaching and training the Fire Service community.

Specifically, the Division of Fire Safety requests proposals for continuing education courses related to training, education and communications issues relevant to fire service personnel throughout New Jersey. New proposals can cover a myriad of topics ranging from management and leadership skills to inspections and instructor specific courses. Current hot topics, including operations as well as fire service safety, also will be considered.

The Division encourages potential instructors to submit new ideas, teaching methods and programs as part of this call for proposals. Ultimately, these proposals will be judged on their timeliness, effectiveness, quality and relevance to the fire service. All proposals must include a detailed fee structure for development and execution.

This Request for Course Proposals is detailed and comprehensive. To be reviewed and/or considered for an upcoming teaching assignment, please submit all materials outlined in the Course Proposal checklist attached to this notice. Submissions that do not include all items referenced on the checklist will not be reviewed.

Please mail completed materials to:

Ms. Laura Haelig
Director, Fire Safety Training Program
1000 Morris Avenue, T-106
Union, NJ 07083

ADMINISTRATIVE SEMINARS

CONFLICT PREVENTION AND RESOLUTION

CE141

Instructor: Workforce Development Group

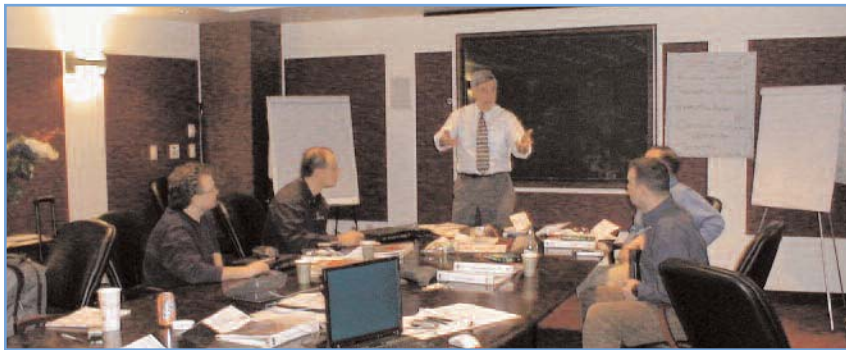

NEW

Perhaps the most critical skill in our dynamic work environment is the ability to resolve conflict. Conflicts arise from clashes in priorities, values, cultural differences, miscommunication, and other workplace challenges. When conflict is avoided or not faced openly, it has consequences in the workplace in the form of poor employee relations, low morale, high absenteeism, and lost productivity. When managed and resolved constructively, conflict enhances interpersonal relationships, and promotes innovation, professional growth, and organizational effectiveness.

FIRE INSTRUCTOR CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

The Fire Service Instructor Safety courses are components of the New Jersey State Fire Service Instructor Certification Program. Information regarding the requirements for certification for Instructor Level I, Instructor Level II, and Special Instructor Certificates in SCBA/Smokehouse and Live Burn Safety can be obtained from the New Jersey Division of Fire Safety, Office of Fire Training and Certification at 609-324-7563. General Safety, SCBA/ Smokehouse Safety, and Live Burn Safety course offerings are scheduled for this semester by the Division of Fire Safety. Contact your local fire academies for additional course offerings. The Fire Service Instructor Certification examinations will be administered during the semester.

Completion of the General Safety course is a prerequisite for both the SCBA/Smokehouse Safety and Live Burn Safety courses, as well as for registration for the Fire Service Instructor Level I Certification Examination. You may register for the SCBA/Smokehouse Safety and/or Live Burn Safety courses at this time; however, you must have completed the 8-hour General Safety course in order to attend these courses. Turnout gear is not required for the courses or tests. These courses also are offered by the county fire academies.

The courses needed for Fire Service Instructor Certification are being offered to those interested in certification as a Fire Service Instructor Level I or Level II. Instructional Techniques for Company Officers is the prerequisite for Fire Service Instructor Level I; Educational Methodology is required for Fire Service Instructor Level II certification. When registering, identify which Instructor Level certification you are applying for. A confirmation will be mailed to you in advance of the test.

TRAIN-THE-TRAINER COURSE OFFERINGS

Train-the-Trainer courses are being offered to increase the number of qualified instructors that are available to teach fire service personnel throughout the state. Train-the-Trainer courses have a limited enrollment. Therefore, instructor selection will be made in the following priority:

1. County, regional or local fire academy instructors
2. Fire department training officers/instructors
3. Other fire instructors

The ability to impact the most students will be the primary factor for selecting qualified applicants. The Division of Fire Safety may opt to limit the number of attendees from any one training agency. To attend the Train-the-Trainer courses, you must have attended the prerequisite course as a student and be a Division of Fire Safety Level II Instructor.

COURAGE TO BE SAFE... C1D15 SO EVERYONE GOES HOME!

Instructor: Ronald E. Kanterman, Gold Horn Associates

This program is an interactive presentation based upon the 16 Life Saving Initiatives as developed by the National Fallen Firefighter Foundation. This presentation is specifically designed for the New Jersey Fire Service and will examine statistics and causes of New Jersey Firefighter Line of Duty Deaths from 1984 to 2005. This presentation was specifically created to educate, inform and enlighten all levels of the New Jersey Fire Service. This presentation is a cooperative effort between the National Fallen Firefighter Foundation, the New Jersey Society of Fire Service Instructors and the New Jersey Division of Fire Safety.

UNDERSTANDING THE ISO, INC. FIRE SUPPRESSION RATING SCHEDULE

C1D21

Instructor: Insurance Services Office, Inc.

NEW

Achieving community cost savings and winning public support may be as simple as making minor changes to how your community prepares its public fire defenses. Join members of the Insurance Services Office, Inc., field staff as they provide the tools and resources needed to improve your community's ISO rating. In this important course you will learn about the Insurance Services Office, Inc., including a historical perspective of previous grading schedules. An overview of the current Fire Suppression Rating Schedule (FSRS) will be presented. All grading items and the individual weighting assignments in Fire Alarm, Fire Department and Water Supply will be covered. The establishment of Needed Fire Flows and their importance throughout the grading process will be emphasized. Public Protection Class (PPC) 9 and Individual Property Fire Suppression Evaluations as well as Alternative Water Supplies will be explained. Also discussed will be the new PPC classification Class 8B. Participants also will receive a copy of the FSRS and be shown the tools ISO, Inc., can provide in preparation for an evaluation. Ample time will be reserved for questions and answers. This course is intended for Fire Chiefs, Operations Chiefs, and Administrative Chiefs responsible for responding to an ISO site visit.

NEW JERSEY INCIDENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

NEW JERSEY FOREST FIRE SERVICE

The New Jersey Division of Fire Safety and the Forest Fire Service of New Jersey have joined to provide Incident Command System Training to the fire service. The Incident Management System, having roots in the Forest Fire Service, makes it logical that the Division of Fire Safety tap this resource. The Division thanks the Forest Fire Service for providing its expertise toward this effort.

The New Jersey Forest Fire Service is an agency within the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection with the responsibility for the protection of life, property and natural resources from wildfire.

All training courses are Incident Management in nature and meet current National Wildfire Coordinating Group Standards that have been established for wildland firefighters across the United States. The delivery of these courses will be geared toward an all risk perspective with knowledge gained being applicable to any type of natural or human caused emergency or disaster. These courses also will assist agencies in becoming proficient in the adoption and use of the United States Department of Homeland Security's National Incident Management System (NIMS).
